

Booker T. Washington Quotes

"I have learned that success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life as by the obstacles which he has had to overcome while trying to succeed."

"The happiest people are those who do the most for others. The most miserable are those who do the least."

"Success waits patiently for anyone who has the determination and strength to seize it."

"If you want to lift yourself up, lift up someone else."

"I would permit no man, no matter what his colour might be, to narrow and degrade my soul by making me hate him."

"The man who has learned to do something better than anyone else, has learned to do a common thing in an uncommon manner, is the man who has a power and influence that no adverse circumstances can take from him."

"Living is the art of loving. Loving is the art of caring. Caring is the art of sharing. Sharing is the art of living."

"Holding a grudge does not hurt the person against whom the grudge is held, it hurts the one who holds it."

"Character is power."

"Nothing ever comes to one, that is worth having, except as a result of hard work."
