TASK CARDS

1

Elections

Draw a poster an election at your school.

2

Elections

Write a short speech about why you'd make a great class president.

3

Elections

List three things you would change if you were in charge of your school.

4

Elections

Create a poster for a friend running for class president.

5

Elections

Draw a picture of yourself as a school leader. Write down your three best leadership qualities.

Elections

Write about why you think it's important for people to vote.

Elections

Pretend you've won an election and write a thank-you note to someone who voted for you.

Elections

Describe a school rule you would like to create or change.

Elections

Write a paragraph about what would happen if people did not have the ability to vote.

Elections

Name one important job the President of the United States does.

Elections

Explain two important personality traits leaders should have.

Elections

Explain why you think the country wants people to wait until they are 18 years old to vote.

Elections

Imagine you're running for mayor of your town.
What would your first act as mayor be?

Elections

Write about why you think the voting age (age 18) should be raised or lowered.

Elections

Write about two important issues in your school that you think a leader can help with.

Elections

Create a campaign poster for a superhero running for mayor.

Elections

Write about a person who is fictional or real who encourages others to vote.

Elections

Write about the best location to hold an election in your school. Why is that the best place?

Elections

Even if you did not want to become a leader, how could you help with a school election?

Elections

Write a poem about why it's important to vote.

Elections

Create a timeline showing the history of elections in your country.

Elections

Draw a picture of a suffragette (a person who fought for women's right to vote).

Elections

In the United States, people can choose to vote or not, but in some places, people are required to vote. Write your reaction to that.

Elections

Write a speech for someone who wants to become a treasurer. A treasurer manages money.

Elections

All leaders are supported by important people.
What might these people do or help with?

Elections

Elections

Describe one quality a good leader should have.

Elections

Write a list of things you would do if you were the leader of your class.

Elections

Write a story about a leader who struggles at first, but gets much better in their leadership role.

Elections

One way political candidates tell people about themselves is by giving away free items with their names on them. What would you give away and why?

Elections

Write a sentence about why it's important to be a good leader.

Elections

Imagine you're running for a school leadership position. What's your campaign slogan?

Elections

Make a list of ways you can be a leader at home or in your community.

Elections

Draw a picture of a leader you admire.
