Trivia: St. Patrick's Day

Directions: St. Patrick's Day is an Irish cultural tradition celebrated by people all over the world. Read the article below in order to prepare for the "St. Patrick's Day" Quiz Game! Underline important details as you read.

St. Patrick's Day is a holiday that comes from the country of Ireland. Ireland is an island in the Atlantic Ocean.

A long time ago, St. Patrick traveled through Ireland and taught people about his religion. His religion was Christianity. People liked his religion, so they became part of it. Today, we celebrate St. Patrick every year on March 17.

To celebrate St. Patrick's Day, many people like to wear green and decorate with four-leaf clovers, pots of gold, rainbows. People also go to celebrations and eat special foods.

Some of the biggest celebrations are held in large cities in the United States. Many families enjoy eating foods from Ireland like corned beef. People also enjoy eating all kinds of potatoes. Yum!

In schools, many classrooms set leprechaun traps to catch leprechauns. Leprechauns are from Irish folktales. Leprechauns are fairies that look like tiny old men. According to Irish folktales, leprechauns can be tricky, but also very fun!
