

Name _____

Rank the Hyperbole

Directions: Hyperbole Hazel here. Today, we're comparing two exaggerated statements. Your job is to pick and circle the hyperbole sentence that is more exaggerated! Ready to spot the extremes? Let's go!

Pair 1:

- a) "The car is faster than a jet!"
- b) "The car is faster than a cheetah."

Pair 2:

- a) "I ate a mountain of pizza!"
- b) "I ate a single slice of pizza."

Pair 3:

- a) "The sun was so bright, it burned my eyes."
- b) "The sun was so bright, it could have lit up the whole world."

Pair 4:

- a) "I waited forever to get my food."
- b) "I waited a thousand years for my food."

Pair 5:

- a) "The ice cream cone was taller than me."
- b) "The ice cream cone was taller than the Eiffel Tower."

Pair 6:

- a) "The wind howled so loud it could wake the whole world."
- b) "The wind howled so loud it could be heard on Mars."

Pair 7:

- a) "I have so many books, they could fill up a whole library."
- b) "I have so many books, they could fill up one shelf."

Pair 8:

- a) "The movie was so funny, I laughed until my stomach hurt for days."
- b) "The movie was so funny, I laughed for an hour."