Expressing Hyperboles with Art

Directions: Hey there, creative geniuses! It's Hyperbole Hazel, and today we're diving into the world of exaggerated art. Just like hyperboles make words bigger, bolder, and more exciting, exaggerated art does the same with drawings! Choose one of the hyperboles below and draw a picture that represents it in an outrageously exaggerated way. Are you ready to create some wild and wacky art inspired by hyperboles? Grab your pencils, and let's get started!

Choose One Hyperbole to Illustrate:

1. "The suitcase was so heavy, it felt like it was full of bricks and bowling balls!"
2. "His dog was so fast, it could outrun a race car!"
3. "The moon was so bright, it looked like a giant flashlight in the sky!"
4. "Her stack of books was so high, it nearly reached the stars!"
5. "The snow was so deep, I thought I'd need a ladder to climb out!"
