100TH DAY POEM

Directions: 100th Day of School is an exciting milestone, and what better way to celebrate than by writing a fun poem! In this activity, you'll write your very own 100th Day poem using your imagination and creativity. Let's make it a day to remember with poetic words!

Read the example poem below. Use it as inspiration to write your own 100th Day poem. Don't forget to rhyme, count, and be creative with your words!

Example Poem:

I have been to school for 100 days,
Learning math and spelling in many ways.
I have counted pencils, blocks, and much more,
Now I'm ready to learn and to explore!

I have read some books and solved many sums,
I made lots of friends and had lots of fun.
Today's a day we all will freely cheer,
Here is to 100 more days this year!
