100TH DAY READING COMPREHENSION

Directions: Read the passage carefully and answer the questions below.

Today was the 100th Day of School, and Ms. Carter's class was buzzing with excitement. The room was decorated with 100 balloons, and each student wore a 100th Day crown. In the morning, the class made a long chain using 100 colorful paper links. After that, they worked on a math challenge to find 100 hidden objects around the classroom.

At lunchtime, everyone enjoyed a special snack made up of 100 tiny treats like pretzels, cereal pieces, and raisins. In the afternoon, Ms. Carter read a story about 100 adventures of a brave little ant. Finally, the day ended with everyone sharing one thing they learned in 100 days of school.

It was a day full of learning, laughter, and lots of counting!
